

Nowruz Mubarak From Afghan Wireless!

To our clients, colleagues and friends celebrating Nowruz, we here at Afghan Wireless wish you a New Year where every day is filled with joy, success and peace.

For many of our fellow Afghans, Nowruz honours not just the arrival of the New Year, but also, the promise of a new beginning. For each one of us, Nowruz is a moment in time where we can make our first plans and take our first steps towards building better lives.

We at Afghan Wireless are observing this season of new beginnings by continuing to fulfill the solemn promise we have made to you, the people of Afghanistan: we will continue building Afghanistan's, largest, most advanced communications network that connects you to the people and places empowering you to live your best life.

Together, let's honor the New Year this time of renewal and the realization of our ability to achieve great things by taking our first steps forward on our journey to build families, communities and a country which reflect our highest hopes and best values: honesty, equality, and the opportunity to work hard and succeed within a safe and free Afghanistan.

Until next time,

Ehsan
